Other Comments Received

“Keep up the good work!”

“Could we please have some parent and child spaces in the car park?”

“Patients need the opportunity to book an appointment to see a GP for a non-emergency.”

“There is a problem with the online system as anything I put on it doesn't seem to get picked up by the surgery.”

“I have a problem with intrusive questioning.”

“This is a really good surgery which is well organised but the appointment system is lacking.”

“The surgery does a really good job, the Receptionists are always friendly and I have never felt like I am wasting their time.”

“I feel that there is a time pressure when I see the GP and that I can only talk about one thing when I go in for my appointment. I am reluctant to come unless I have to.”

“It is a bit annoying when you can't make an appointment more than two weeks in advance.”

“The online system is really good and I find that some of the GPs listen to me but it can be a bit variable.”

“The surgery could improve the waiting times but I don't know if it is because they need more GPs or there are too many patients.”

“More GPs are needed.”

“Generally quite pleased with the surgery.”

“People from other organisations are parking in the GPs surgery.”

“The book-in system sometimes says that there is no wait time but you can wait for 30-50 minutes.”

Recommendations

- Surgery to advertise opening hours so that patients are aware what these are. This was discussed with the Practice Manager on the day of the visit.
- Informing patients on the day of any delays which may impact their appointment, especially when delays are likely to be longer than those displayed on the electronic check in. Good practice seen at other surgeries has involved a notice board in Reception.
- The surgery to look into the concerns raised by the patients in respect of the appointment booking system. One solution to this could be maximising the use of online appointment booking to reduce the amount of telephone traffic. This may also require educating patients on how to use the online booking system.

Surgery Response

Response by Tim Morris, Practice Manager

Further to your recommendations I can confirm that, following verbal feedback from the visiting team on the day, the practice immediately actioned the following:

- New 'practice information' notice board created with details of openings hours, availability of confidentiality window, availability of fresh water and availability of translators.
- Updating our two waiting room TV screens to also include details of opening hours and availability of appointments.
- We have liaised with both our clinical system supplier and PPG regarding the indicated delays on the touch screen check-in system and have subsequently removed this facility as there is no way to ensure it is entirely accurate due to its internal algorithms and our PPG felt that it was more often misleading than not. In its place we have implemented a staff Standard Operating Procedure whereby delays of more than 15 minutes will be announced to waiting patients.
- The final recommendation talks about the practice planning to look into maximising the use of online appointments. This is something we already do and we are in the top quartile in the country for this with 2/3 of our patients registered for the service. We promote this service using every means available including SMS, email, monthly newsletters, waiting room notice boards, waiting room TV screens, new patients' registrations and staff prompts.
